VOL. CXXXI—67. ALEXANDRIA, VIRGINIA, FRIDAY, MARCH 19, 1915. PRICE, 2 CENTS

FRENCH SHIP SUNK IN DARDANELLES

Turkish Men-of-War Bombard Russian Torpedo Base in Crimea

BUILDINGS BURNED

Several of Allies' Vessels Withdraw in Crippled Condition From Fire of Moslem Forts.

Constantinople, March 19—The French battleship Bouvet, bombarding the Dardanelles forts, has been sunk by the Turkish forts, the war office announces in an official statement today.

Turkish warships, the war office also say, have bombarded the Russian torpedo boat base west of Theodosia in Crimea, setting fire to many buildings and damaging Russian war craft.

This was the first official confirmation of reports circulated two weeks ago that the Turkish fleet had withdrawn from the Dardanelles strait and is operating in the Black Sea.

The official statement indicates that the Bouvet was sunk inside the strait. The allied fleet, the war office states, opened a heavy fire upon the Dardanelles forts, swinging in at close range and hurling shells at intervals of less than a minute.

The forts returned the fire and shelled the Anglo French warships with great effectiveness. Unofficial reports said several of the enemy's warships withdrew from the battle line, badly cripled, before the Bouvet suddenly tilted over and began to go down.

Following the disaster to the Bouvet the allied fleet withdrew, steaming out of sight off Tenedos Island. Rumors were circulated here today that the attempt to force the Dardanelles may be abandoned.

KILED BY DERVISHES

Tribesmen Said to Have Gained Possession of the Whole of Sudan

Berlin, March 19—A German merchant, who recently has returned from Egypt, is authority for the declaration that whole of the Sudan, including Khartum, and also parts of Nubia, are in possession of the dervishes.

The traveler says an engagement took place near Fashoda last December, in which General Hawley, of the British army and a number of other officers together with almost 2,000 men lost their lives.

It is said that the tribesmen destroyed an Australian camp near the Pyramids on November 19 killing 200 Australians and capturing guns and provisions. Later, in large force not less than 80,000 they overflowed the entire Province of Fayum and destroyed all railroad including the Cairo Assuan line.

Thousands of tribesmen responded to the appeal of the dervishes, and on December 13, 40,000 of them marched in the direction of Fashoda on the White Nile, where General Hawley opposed them with 6,000 troops.

WALKS OUT OF PRISON

Forger Sentenced for Five Years, Escapes on Visitor's Pass

New York, March 19—Jacob Abrams, sentenced to five years in Sing Sing for forgery, escaped from the Tombs yesterday afternoon. Up to a late hour last night he was still at large.

The prisoner used the old ruse of walking out on a visitor's pass. How he escaped from the cell and obtained the card on which he was released from the building are mysteries as yet unsolved.

Patrick Dalton, on whose pass Abram escaped told conflicting stories. Late last night detectives arrested Mrs. Frances Philips who visited Abrams today on a charge of aiding a prisoner to escape.

NEWS OF THE DAY

Hanged by his pet dog was the fate today of 5-year-old Thomas Souteramo, of Brooklyn. His mother found him strangled in the yard of their home. The rope which had throttled him was attached to an ungainly puppy, which was licking the dead child's hand and whining. Little Thomas could have been saved by several of his companions who were playing with him. When they saw him wrap the dog's leash about his body and romp with the puppy, they laughed. When he stumbled and fell, they laughed louder. But when the noose slipped up around his neck, and the gambling puppy drew it taut they became frightened. As the child's face became blue with strangulation, his companions fled.

Severe snowstorms along the English coasts during the past 24 hours have resulted in loss of life and considerable damage to shipping. Three boats of the Newbiggin fishing fleet have sunk off the Northumberland coast, with the loss of nine lives. The steamer Upas went down off the County Down, Ireland, Thursday afternoon and seven persons perished. This disaster was due to the ship turning turtle when her cargo shifted. On Wednesday night the Fleetwood boat train collided with a freight train near Rochdale during a storm and two persons were killed and twenty injured.

In the fighting around Neuve Chapelle three German princes, including Prince Leopold of Hohenzollern, a member of the reigning family of Germany, were killed in the conflict. More than 2,000 German bodies were counted in the field and east of the village 500 more could be seen. These figures do not include those killed in Neuve Chapelle, where many bodies were buried in the masonry. Nor do they include the bodies behind the line occupied by the British at L'Epinette, which they gained by a sudden attack with bombs.

Richard Madden and Gustave Cook, of Hoboken, N. J., were found guilty in New York yesterday of conspiracy against the United States in aiding Richard P. Stegler, a German naval reservist to procure a false American passport. The jurors, who considered the case, and who were selected for their neutral opinions on the European war, deliberated for six hours before they reached a verdict. They added to it "a strong recommendation for mercy." The pair will be sentenced late today.

"The eyes of the whole world are upon the fighting in Champagne," declared Emperor William in a speech to the Thirty-eighth German Reserves. "The enemy in Champagne is increasing his forces all the time in an effort to bring about a decisive decision, but the Germans, by their bravery, have made this impossible so far, and they will continue to do so until peace is obtained."

The United States Circuit Court of Appeals at San Francisco yesterday confirmed the lower court in sentencing Maury I. Diggs to two years in prison and F. Drew Caminetti to eighteen months for having violated the Mann act. The decision means that the two men will have to serve their sentences, unless they can carry their cases to the United States Supreme Court.

Highwaymen operating along the West Shore Railroad in the vicinity of Highland Falls, N. Y., held up one man, robbed him, and cut his throat, obtaining $2.86, and later entered a railroad station, shot and killed the night telegraph operator, and escaped Wednesday night, after taking about $1 in change from his pockets.

Col. J. V. Cockrell, 80 years old, a Confederate veteran and former representative from Texas, died yesterday at Abilene, Texas. Col. Cockrell was a brother of former United States Senator Francis M. Cockrell, of Missouri.

The German liner Macedonia, which escaped from Las Palmas, Canary Islands, with a cargo of war supplies, is reported to have been captured at sea by a British cruiser.

Crown Prince Frederick William, of Germany, is reported to be suffering from the same throat ailment that afflicts his father.

Incidentally Mr. Hawxhurst referred to the activity and pledge of Walter Tansill Oliver of Fairfax to deliver Fairfax to the Local Self Government League by 600 to 1,000 majority. "And when the returns came in and gave 250 for prohibition I felt good my brethren, and I am still feeling good," said Hawxhurst.

HOTEL PROPRIETOR KILLED.

Shot by Employe, Who Fires Bullet Into Own Head.

Lexington, Ky., March 19.—Joseph M. Skain, one of the proprietors of the Phoenix Hotel in this city, and one of the best known hotel men in the South, was shot and instantly killed last night by E. A. Walden, chief engineer of the hotel, who then sent a bullet into his own head. Physicians say Walden will die from his wound.

Walden is said to have resented instructions given him by Skain.

John B. McManus, American cattle raiser, who was assasssinated in Mexico City last week, was killed it is alleged because he refused to surrender a portion of his property to the forces of Gen. Villa.

COLLECTOR DISMISSED.

Inefficiency Alleged to Have Been Cause of Action of Treasury Department.

Washington, D. C., March 19.—Robert L. Ailworth, of Northampton county, Va., was summarily dismissed from his position Wednesday as agent for the collection of income taxes for the Eastern District of Virginia by Supervising Agent Thomas H. Vandeford, his immediate superior, in charge of the Richmond headquarters.

A telegram temporarily countermanding the letter of dismissal sent him was directed to Ailworth yesterday by Acting Secretary of the Treasury Newton after Congressman Carter Glass and William A. Jones, of Virginia had visited the Treasury Department in Ailworth's behalf immediately upon receiving word of his dismissal.

Treasury Department officials stated that Ailworth, one of the most prominent men in Eastern Virginia politics, is one of about twenty agents whom it has been decided to discharge for inefficient service. He is the only one, it is understood, marked for discharge in Virginia.

His duty is to investigate corporations and individuals that seemingly have been delinquent in paying their income taxes and see that they do not evade the law. In this Ailworth has apparently failed, according to a statement made by a high Treasury official today, as he has not made returns sufficient to pay half his salary.

The attention of Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo was called to several cases similar to Ailworth's some weeks ago, and he directed that where agents were found to be inefficient they be discharged.

BOMB WRECKS HOUSE

Blows Up Home of Mayor Who Discharged Town's Police

New York, March 19—The home of Mayor Daniel Herrmann of Guttenburg, N. Y., a suburb, was wrecked early yesterday by the explosion of a bomb. A hole was torn in the wall of the house, windows were broken and the entire community was awakened. No one was injured.

Mayor Herrmann discharged the Guttenburg police force of eight men sixteen months ago on the ground that they had no work to do, and that the town was so orderly no police were needed. The police took the matter to the courts, where it is now pending. When the bomb exploded this morning the police were holding their annual ball.

Asleep in the mayor's home at the time of the explosion were the mayor his three brothers and his mother. The Guttenburg police, although officially discharged, are investigating. The bomb thrower escaped.

VIENNA SHORT OF BREAD.

Thousands Unable to Get Supply Under the New Regulations

Venice, March 19—Reports from Vienna say that thousands of the population of the Austrian capital were unable to obtain bread last Tuesday, the new decree restricting production by one fourth having caused a general dislocation of the entire baking trade.

Stocks of flour are declared to have run so low that in many places bakers found it impossible to make bread.

The supplies were everywhere speedily sold out. Late customers stormed the bake shops in several districts. The authorities have endeavored to calm the people by declaring that the bread shortage is only temporary. Bread and flour tickets will be issued in Vienna and in all towns in Austria, beginning April 4.

BIG BATTLE IS DEVELOPING

Fierce Struggle for Possession of Bukowina Capital

AUSTRIANS REPULSED

Cities, Villages and Farms Face Danger From Torch—"Eye for an Eye" Policy Adopted by Both.

London, March 19.—Great Russian armies now are fighting on German soil, the advance in East Prussia netting many miles. Berlin today admits that the czar's forces have entered the important seaport of Memel.

Bucharest, March 19—A big battle is developing for the possession of the Bukowina capital, Czenowitz, according to dispatches from border towns today.

A large Austrian force advanced out of Czernowitz and attempted to cross the Pruth to attack the Russians massed near Sadagora. Their attempts to throw pontoons across the river were defeated by the Russian howitzers.

A small body of Russian forces still occupies a position on the south bank of the Pruth, west of Czernowitz.

Petrograd, March 19—War's most cruel blows are about to be struck in the 300 miles of Prussian Polish frontier land, winding southward from the Baltic Sea to the Vistula river. Cities, villages, and farms which escaped devastation in the sweep of Slav and German armies back and forth across the border faces new danger from the torch.

Berlin's official announcement that Polish government buildings, villages and estates are to be burned, has aroused the Russian people to the greatest indignation. Officials who discussed the German war office statement early today made no attempt to conceal their wrath.

That Russia will counter with equally drastic reprisals against east Prussian towns is considered certain.

Baltimore, March 19.—Stricken on his way to his office yesterday morning, James Woodall, familiarly known as Captain Woodall, senior member of the shipbuilding firm of William E. Woodall & Co., fell at Clement and Woodall streets and died before medical aid could be summoned.

Mr. Woodall had been suffering with a heavy cold for the last week and yesterday was the first time since Saturday that he had gone to his office.

He was born in Liverpool, England, 72 years ago, and came to this country when he was 14 years old.

STEAMER TORPEDOED.

The Glenartley Loaded With Rice, Destroyed in English Channel.

London, March 19.—The Glasgow steamer Glenartley was torpedoed and sunk yesterday morning in the English Channel off Beachy Head. The Glenartley was carrying a cargo of 8,000 tons of rice from Kohaichang to London and Liverpool. She was torpedoed and sunk without warning ten miles southeast of Beachy Head. The ship was struck fairly in the center, and the explosion sent the cargo hurtling skyward. Despite the terrific force of the explosion the crew was able to make the boats before the ship sank. They drifted in the boats two hours before they were picked up.

Valpariso, March 19.—The British auxiliary cruiser Orama, here with the wounded from the German cruiser Dresden, sunk off Juan Fernandez Island, last Sunday, brought the first news of a battle off the River Platt on November 11, in which the German armed merchantman Navarra was sent to the bottom. The Orama was proceeding to join the British squadron when she sighted the Navarra off the mouth of the River Platt. The Orama gave chase and the auxiliary exchanged shots. The gunnery of the British vessel was the more accurate and after a brief engagement the German was sunk.

ASKS NEW HABEAS CORPUS.

Writ Declares Thaw Was Illegally Ordered Back to Matteawan

New York, March 19.—Abandoning hope of obtaining a jury trial to test his sanity, Harry K. Thaw today launched a new habeas corpus writ. Before Supreme Court Justice Bijur today Thaw's second writ—his third appeal since his acquittal of conspiracy to escape from the asylum—was briefly argued, in a kaleidoscopic maze, increasing almost daily.

Thaw's new rit was served early this morning upon Sheriff Grifenhagen. It was brought before Justice Bijur, with Thaw's "body" according to legal red tape an hour later.

That Justice Page illegally ordered Thaw back to Matteawan and refused his return to New Hampshire was the basis of the new writ to Justice Page, who will refuse it. This double-barreled judicial action was planned to be the basis of an appeal to the appellate branch.

While awaiting decision of the court of appeals, Thaw may remain in the Tombs. If the appellate court sustains Justice Page's ruling, Thaw wil be ready with a third habeas corpus writ in the Federal courts, upon which an appeal can be taken to the United States Supreme Court.

In the meantime, the first habeas corpus writ, served upon Warden Hanley of the Tombs, upon which Thaw planned a sanity inquiry will be held in abeyance, as a "last resort" move.

PROTEST AGAINST BRITISH BLOCKADE

Rough Draft of Representations Reach President Wilson

FRANCE IS IGNORED

Note May Not be Sent for Several Days as White House Sees no Need of Great Haste.

Washington, March 19.—The first rough draft of the protest of the United States against the British blockade of Germany reached the President today.

It specifically states the alies' action is a matter of fact rather than a matter of law. And, because of that, the correspondence which has passed between the United States and England and France is ignored.

It is unlikely that the protest will be sent to either England or France for several days. Officials at the White House and the State Department say there is no apparent need of haste.

The first protest is to be a general one against the entire suggestion. It will state that even though the allies should hope to create a general situation which would interfere with all commerce to and from the German coast cities, unless such blockade is established within territorial waters it will not be considered effective by the United States.

And the United States will suggest that in the last analysis the question really at issue is the right of American citizens to trade with whom they please, so long as they are not dealing in contraband.

It was officially denied at the White House today that President Wilson is considering a special session. Officials said the President had decided such an act would be construed as a violation of neutrality.

The Administration is satisfied the allies will meet the United States at least half way in the discussion of the German blockade and there is no apprehension anywhere that it cannot be arranged through diplomatic circles.

The United States will lay down one fundamental protest against the demand that the United States agree that no American goods reach Germany through neutral countries.

It will be pointed out that the commerce between the United States and neutral nations is a matter between this country and those nations and it will be frankly stated that interference with such commerce is a decidedly unfriendly act.

SNOW IS PREDICTED.

Storm, However, is Not Expected to be Heavy ,and Will Not Last.

Washington, March 19.—Snow or rain tonight; cloudy tomorrow.

This forecast by the Weather Bureau today was given with hesitancy by the observer, who qualified the prediction somewhat, by saying that the snow, if it came, would be light.

The snow or rain is expected to begin tonight and continue intermittently until tomorrow morning when the mild storm is expected to end. Rain changing to snow, or snow chainging to rain, is the precise forecast.

The storm comes from the Ohio valley, light snows and rains being general in Indiana, Kentucky, Tennessee, southern Ohio, and western Virginia. Colder weather will follow although continued cold is not expected.

VICTIMS OF DRUG HABIT

Rigid Enforcement of Anti-Narcotic Laws Causes Devotees to Become Frantic.

Alexandria authorities are worried over the trouble which is being caused by "dope fiends" since the rigid enforcement in this city of the Harrison Anti-Narcotic law, which went into effect March 1st.

On Tuesday a young white man was taken to the police station after he had threatened to kill a druggist, a physician and a city official because they would not supply him with morphine. A lunacy commission was held over him and he was sent to the Western Asylum for the Insane at Staunton.

Another young white man became violent on Wednesday and he was sent to Staunton.

Yesterday an aged white man, who is adicted to the laudanum habit, became frantic when he could not procure a supply of the drug and was locked up in the police station. He was committed to jail this morning for ten days.

Dr. Walter A. Warfield, physician to the poor, estimates that there are more than 1,000 persons in Alexandria who are users of some kind of narcotic. The great majority are among the negro classes who are cocaine users.

HORRORS IN EASTERN WAR ZONE.

"The government of East Prussia, in an official statement, says that during the first Russian invasion 10,000 houses were burned, 2,000 civilians murdered and 4,000 kidnapped. During the second invasion, of the 15,000 civilians who remained in the province up to November 4,000 had been murdered or kidnapped by the Russians. The statement adds that 80,000 private apartments were completely pillaged and their furniture conveyed to Russia by train."

Russians again are fighting upon German soil. It is announced at Petrograd that the Kaiser's forces defending Laugszargen, in East Prussia, have been beaten back by the Russians after a fierce attack, and that the Czar's troops have advanced well beyond the frontier. Berlin officially admits that the Russians again are battling on the soil of the fatherland, but minimizes their successes.

The German government threatens reprisals by the torch against the Russians for the sacking of East Prussian estates. A footnote to the official statement says: "As a retaliatory measure for each villiage or estate burned down on German territory by these hordes, three villages or estates in Russian territory which we occupy will be set on fire. Every damage caused by fire in Memel will be answered by burning down Russian government buildings at Suwalki, and other capitals in the German hands."

The Germans employed both fire and water to destroy the Russians in the campaign in the Mazurian Lake district of East Prussia. German strategy counted not only on water and mire, but even fire. Their engineers have for many years been equipped with a peculiar kind of auger for excavating the trunks of soft trees such as the Mazurian firs. When the Russian army first advanced into East Prussia, German engineers hastily excavated numbers of trees. When Russian troops reached the Mazurian district German engineers at once opened the canal locks drowning the invading troops like flies. Some Russians reached the forests, but of course they had no idea that many trees had been charged with gasoline. It was an easy task for the German artillery to set a match to this bonfire and burn up the Russian regiments they had entrapped."

Sheridan's raid in the Valley of Virginia and Weyler's operations in Cuba were revolting, but the cruelty of combattants in Europe at the present day eclipses anything heard of in ancient or modern times.

WILEY PUTS BAN ON CANDIES.

Dr. Harvey W. Wiley advocates no sweets for children because the candy eating habit gives a child a "sweet tooth" which is harmful.

Many people believe that a "sweet tooth" is a blessing, as it is generally seen that a person addicted to sweets seldom has a passion for stimulants. If this theory be correct, it seems that children should be allowed to use sweets, in moderation.

The question "What shall we eat, or what shall we drink? is becoming more perplexed all the time as representatives of health boards forbid the use of this and that thing. Such interdictions often bring to mind the sad experience of Sancho Panza, Don Quixote's good squire, while he was for a short time governor of Barataria. The court physician saw evil in every dish placed before Sancho, who had been compelled to fast for forty eight hours in order to "clear his brain for statecraft." He was eventually allowed to appease his hunger on one hundred and fifty compressed wafers.

NO PENT UP UTICA FOR THE KAISER.

A remarkable story concerning the kaiser and a speech he is credited with having made at a secret council at Potsdam in 1908, in which he declared that he is the chosen of God to conquer the world and that the Divine Power had placed in his hand for the purpose the Zeppelin airship is related in a book entitled "German Spies in England," published in London several weeks ago.

The emperor declared he would, as soon as a sufficient fleet of Zeppelins for which he had already given orders was built, find a speedy and just cause for war from his "army of spies scattered over Great Britain and France, as it is over North and South America, as well as all other parts of the world where German interest may come to clash with foreign power."

The plan which the kaiser set forth the articles goes on to say was to destroy England's North Sea. Channel and Atlantic fleets with Zeppelins, "after which nothing on earth can prevent the landing of our army on British soil and its triumphal march to London."

After the conquest of England the German army was to march into France. Two or three battles were expected in France ,which would force that country to accept the German terms of peace, Meanwhile Holland and Belgium were to be seized and finally after the war the scalp of the Czar, who would be held in check by Austria until the decisive moment would be placed in William's belt.

The kaiser continuing, said: It will be time to set things right in Amreica and to teach my friends over there that I have not forgotten the object lesson which Admiral Dewey saw fit to give me some years since when we had the little altercation with Castro. If God will help us, as I am convinced He will, I trust that at the end of the coming year the imperial treasury will be filled to overflowing with the gold of British and French war indemnities."

Not content with the subjugation of the countries named, the Kaiser intended to unite all the conquered powers under Germany to oppose the eastern races. The emperor is quoted as saying:

"Then—but not before then—the moment will have come to talk of disarmament and arbitration. With Great Britain and France in the dust and the United States at my mercy I shall set a new course to the destinies of the world—a course that will insure to Germany for all times to come the leading part among the nations of the world. That accomplished, I shall unite all the people of the white race in a powerful alliance for the purpose of coping under German guidance with the yellow peril."

The author says that the kaiser declared that three million Germans did his bidding at presidential elections and that no American administration could remain in power against the will of the German voters, "who control the destinies of the vast republic beyond the sea.." Following are some of the most interesting parts of the narrative:

"In calling this council I have followed the Divine command. Almighty God has always been a great and true ally of the House of Hohenzollern. After long hours of fervent praper light has at last come to me."

A bit of interesting news crops out in the above. We never knew before that Emperor William controled Presidential elections in the United States, nor that Germany, with her many acts of friendship, had a rod in pickle for us.

CIVIC IMPROVEMENTS.

(Communicated)

Editor, the Gazette:—

If this be treason I should be shot as a traitor—but please do not shoot. Within my recollection the official part of Alexandria has never been strong on what is commonly called "Civic Pride" and this spirit seems to extend to many individuals. The individual should not be berated because in many instances the slim purse makes the fellow who might want to do the things that would add to the attractiveness of his property pause, especially when he sees his weathier neighbor setting an example that is neither a credit to himself or the city. There is no excuse, however, for the muncipality. True, we have in recent years builded many sewers and paved many streets but what about some of the other things,— little things, some of our city fathers and some of our city officials will say,— but in my opinion they are big things and go hand in glove with the sewer and the street improvement. Let me get down to two or three things that suggest themselves to me along this subject of "Civic Pride". Our market alley was never a delight to the eye as a bit of scenery in my time and it is not improving with age. I wonder what the distinguished men from all parts of the United States who gathered here in annual meeting on Febuary 22-23 and passed and repassed that alley at one end or the other) thought of the litter with which it was decorated. Let us hope that they ascribed the condition to the fact that it was a holiday and one that followed a Sunday and then forgot it. At that time the western entrance to the alley was "decorated" with the remains of two old rubber boots (or something akin thereto) and at this writing (St. Patrick's Day) wagons are still trying vainly to pulverize those same two decorations. I will pause with this reference to market alley except to add that it should be paved decently and swept frequently as are the other paved streets of the city. This is a prayer and let me add in this connection that the city council might find a few hundred dollars with which to replace with sightly structures the unsightly ones that now adorn the north side of this alley.

Now, to another subject. Several years ago a society of patriotic women presented to the city a fountain, which was planted at the intersection of Cameron and Royal streets. How much care has the city bestowed upon this gift? Its present purpose seems the amusement of boys, who pound upon the lower metal rim and produce a hideous noise that can be heard for several blocks. When warmer weather comes the doors at police headquarters will be open and someone on the force may recollect that there are no boiler factories in the neighborhood. In the meantime the fountain doubtless will be disfigured and the nerves of the neighbors will be beyond repair. Again what a picture our city hall presents. The building is a credit to the city but when one passes around it and finds curtains of various colors at its window (especially a deep blue and a pale green in close juxtaposition) and then windows without curtains and apparently without ever having had a bath, it makes one shiver. Can't the various departments of our city government get together on this curtain proposition and let the city hall be uniformly curtained?

OLD INHABITANT.

A TRIAL WILL CONVINCE ANYONE—THE GREAT KIDNEY REMEDY NEVER DISAPPOINTS.

A few years ago I was troubled with a complication of kidney and stomach ailments and although I tried two or three different doctors, I was unable to obtain a cure. Having heard a great deal about Swamp-Root, I decided to give it a trial and purchased a one-dollar bottle of Mr. Alexander, the druggist. From the beginning I could notice a change for the better and after taking eight bottles of your medicine, I felt entirely cured and have not had any trouble since.

Had I not began using Swamp-Root sooner, I would have been a few hundred dollars to the good and saved myself a lot of suffering.

You may use my testimonial any time you wish. Yours very truly,

CHARLES E. HARRIS,

"The Thinkers of the Country Are the Tobacco Chewers"—said one of the greatest thinkers this country ever produced.

Says the Doctor:

"After a trying day visiting my patients, a chew of PICNIC TWIST soothes my nerves and calms and fits me for the morrow.

"It is the soft, mild leaf of PICNIC TWIST that is so satisfying. It does not possess the depressing 'after effect' of dark 'heavy' tobaccos. There's the same difference between PICNIC TWIST and 'heavy' tobacco as between a good cup of just right coffee and one that is muddy and overstrong."

Conservation of Conversation

The busy man regards his time as money. Yet each man who calls on him in person wastes it by remarks on politics, the weather, and other subjects having no bearing on the business in hand.

Not so with the caller by telephone. He goes to the heart of the matter at once, states his business, and "hangs up," giving the busy man a chance to attend to other matters.

Talking by telephone conserves conversation and saves time.

PRAYER UNANSWERED.

Invocation Failed to Open Doors of Cell at Suffolk.

Suffolk, Va., March 18.—After praying hard and long and loud for one hour and fifteen minutes James Goodman, colored, became enraged when the locks on his cell failed to open miraculously Sunday morning, and raved for an hour longer when Mayor Holladay came down and let him out.

Goodman appeared at the police station Thursday night and asked Sergeant Dennis to lock him in a cell Sunday morning for an hour, as he had had a vision that he would be able to pray the locks off the cell door. Promptly at 8 o'clock Sunday morning Goodman appeared with Bible and hymn book and Sergeant Dennis obligingly locked him in.

Goodman sang awhile and then started to pray, but the locks of the Suffolk jail held good.

He became so furious that the mayor was sumoned and after Goodman became quiet, released him. He claimed to be the prophet of a new sort of religion, which he was to prove by praying himself out of the locked cell.

SENSATION IN ROANOKE.

Grand Jury Reports Connects Some Officials With a Gambling Place.

Roanoke, Va., March 19.—All Roanoke is throbbing with excitement over the report of a grand jury connecting certain city officials directly or indirectly with a gambling joint, which, the grand jury asserts, has been operated on Jefferson street, in the heart of the business section.

Early this week the jury found indictments for gambling against Geo. Elderkin, Samuel Ballentine and J. J. Morgan.

On Wednesday evening the jury gave out a report declaring that Chief of Police Moore was informed by a member of the police force in December of the extent of the gambling place, and that the chief replied he would confer with J. P. Flippo, a police commissioner, and let the officer know what to do. The report says:

"The testimony indicates that those in charge of the Police Department are either incapable of coping with this class of lawbreakers or else immunity is furnished from some source. The testimony shows that the Chief of the Fire Department (James McFall) frequented this place over the Comet Theater and his presence there should be explained to the satisfaction of the public."

A CONFESSION

Hopes Her Statement, Made Public, will Help Other Women.

Hines, Ala.—"I must confess", says Mrs. Eula Mae Reid, of this place, "that Cardui, the woman's tonic, has done me a great deal of good.

Before I commenced using Cardui, I would spit up everything I ate. I had a tired, sleepy feeling all the time, and was irregular. I could hardly drag around, and would have severe headaches continuously.

Since taking Cardui, I have entirely quit spitting up what I eat. Everything seems to digest all right, and I have gained 10 pounds in weight."

If you are a victim of any of the numerous ills so common to your sex, it is wrong to suffer.

For half a century, Cardui has been relieving just such ills, as is proven by the thousands of letters, similar to the above, which pour into our office, year by year.

Cardui is successful because it is composed of ingredients which act specifically on the womanly constitution, and helps build the weakened organs back to health and strength.

Cardui has helped others, and will help you, too. Get a bottle today. You won't regret it. Your druggist sells it.
